Falko Kammel
Software Engineer

I am a solution focused junior software engineer with background in law and business. My values and international experience enable me to engage and easily integrate myself into diverse, intercultural teams. Combining my strong cultural skills, critical thinking, technical knowledge and business mindset, I am now seeking opportunities as a frontend engineer.

Projects

E-Commerce Clone

GitHub React App | GitHub API | Demo

- Full Stack (MERN) e-commerce clone (Zalando). Frontend with React.js, CSS. Backend as a RESTful API with Node.js, Express.js and MongoDB.
- Users can signup and login, put items into the cart, remove them (local storage without login, database as signed up user).
- Checkout process, payment managed via stripe.

Weather App

GitHub

- React app with weather API, voice navigation (Alan AI) and email reminder (EmailJS) for temperature drop.
- Allows users to add locations to their watch list and get the current weather information. Includes a real-time weather map
- This project was developed in pair-programming.
- This project has not bee deployed for security reasons due to the use of API keys without a backend

Shop Inventory App

GitHub | Demo

- Full Stack shop inventory CRUD app deployed on render.com using NodeJS and Express JS on the back-end, HTML, EJS and CSS on the front-end.
- Users can signup and login, admin can manage user access to add, delete and update categories and items. Users can write comments for each item posted.

Experience
